Evaluation of Santa Fe's LEAD Program: Client Interview Report Tables

Prepared by:
Conner Tuttle, New Mexico Sentencing Commission

August 2018

A series of questions from the intake interview were repeated to measure program impact with 24 LEAD clients. Interviews were not done at a specific time in the program. At the interview, clients varied from eight months to over three years of program participation.

These demographics may not reflect certain aspects of the other papers for a few reasons. First, the significance testing used paired T-tests. Paired T-tests mean that the individual must have reported both in the intake and follow up interview to be compared. This paper is intended to show demographic information only. Second, there was an individual who did not have a baseline interview, Third, Individuals may have become more willing to disclose their substance misuse over time, so the individual may not have reported their use at the baseline resulting in substantial changes.
